John Sherman is a monumental figure in American politics. If we consider him, all in all, and compare him with others, we shall find that he has no equal on this continent. No other man would make so wise, able and good a president.

In view, however, of his Florence letter, I do not believe he will be a candi-date, or that he would accept a nomination. After all no amount of moralizing brings procure any furniture made, they must pass them by and buy away from home, and the same is true in dry goods. Youngstown has three dry goods houses that no ordinary city in the United States can surpass, but they receive little encouragement from Youngstown capitalists. Then to the country and surrounding towns we must turn—to Warren, Niles, Girard, to Sharon, Hubbard, and to all people who expect to need carpets in the next five years, etc., etc.,

Judge Albion W. Tourgee presents the ollowing significant facts in an article dark brows that seem to have been ontributed to the Inter Ocean, Chicago: The north had, in 1880, $2,000,000 of people and 1,500 000 of illiterates; the suth had 18,000,000 of people and 5,000,000 illiterates. Of the illiteracy of the 000 illiterates. Of the filiteracy of the north almost one-half is imported, foreignborn; of that of the south only one seven-tieth part was born outside her limits. What does it mean? Simply that where the principles of the republican party pre-vail and the elements which predominate in its ranks bear sway, less than 3 per cent. of the children pass the age of 10 years without being able to read and write. On the other hand where the principles of the democratic party have prevailed and where the forces which now dominate its councils control, 57 per cent. of its whole popula-tion—including 19 per cent. of its native whites—grow up in profound ignorance.

The Germans of Cincinnati whom the Times-Stor has interviewed "want it understood that the presumption that they obey such laws as conform to their idea of personal liberty, is entirely gratuitous; and they are tired of being talked of as but you," she said, simply, and the days making beer and the privilege of getting it and nights are so long whenever they please, the things uppermost in their lives." The Germans have been maligned by both the saloon-men and a cerother class. German brewers, distillers and saloon-keepers compose but a small portion of the great body of that race.

Material for Gun Metal.

An old man, bent with the weight of some 70 or 80 years, shuffled into the store of a Seventh avenue gunsmith the other day and deposited a small canvasa bag on the counter. The gunsmith opened it, emptied a lot of horseshoe nails which it contained into a pair of scales, and after weighing them passed some pieces of silver over to the old fellow. The white head bowed curtly, took up his bag again and disappeared through the half open door as quietly as he came. The gunsmith said that he had been buying nails from the old man in the same way for some two or three years. The man picked them up in the street just as the Italian pop-ulation gather eigar butts, only nails are ily found than eigars, and he competition is at a minimum. "I buy the nails," said the manufacturer of firearms, "because they are made of metal that is best suited for the construction of gun parrels, and because in buying them as I do I get at a cheap price some rather expensive material. Every morning before sunrise my old fellow hurries over to Gansevoort market, from thence to Washington market, and afterward to other places where the country produce wagons congregate at early day-break. There is sure to be a number of cast thoes lying about, and quite a quantity of nails. These he picks up in short order. Then after he has had breakfast I fancy that he goes to certain blacksmith shops whose rietors allow him to take away ld nails he can find on the floor. He probably is not enabled to make a living at from fifty cents to $1 worth of nails a week. I fancy that he has other sources of income, but he can nevertheless pay the rent of some cheap garret with what I give him each week."—New York Evening Sun.

Losing Their Good Breeding "Yes, sir, the men of Chicago are not what they used to be," said a well known man about town to a reporter. "There has been within the past few years a decided decline within the past rew years a decided of the ingallantry and courtesy. The men are losing their good breesling, their deferential manner toward women, their respect for the ex. It used to be the rule in Chicago, and that not so long ago, either, that any woman, old or young, pretty or homely, met with a certain amount of consideration at the hands of the men. Such a sight as a woman standing up in a horse car and a man seated at the ame time was not to be met with in those days. "it was the sex which found universal revence. Look at the facts to-day. Where ormerly men used to chaperone we theatres or concerts, nine times out of ten from mere kindness of heart, so as to give the dear creatures a pleasure, even if they happened to be wrinkled in the face, or anyng but good looking, you will now see men take nobody but a pretty woman to any place of amusement. I am speaking of the unmarried half of the women, of course. Ask the florists and the confectioners! They'll tell you the same thing about this de cadence of gallantry in Chicago of which I'm speaking. Not one-half the amount of bouquets and boxes of candy—comparatively speaking—is bought to-day by the husbands and fathers of this town as formerly. The same I am told, is true of jewelry. The wish to give a woman pleasure, springing merely from kindness of heart and having no sordid or other reasons back of it, reigns no longer in men's hearts, at least not so universally."-Chicago Journal.

Bull Fighting Prohibited in Mexico Gen. Gonzales, formerly president of the Republic, and now governor of the state of Guanajunto, has taken a bold and decisive of the state of step in decreeing the suppression of bull fighting in that state. He declares that the sport is demoralizing and leading the people into habits of wastefulness and disorder, and that the employment of large sums for con-structing buil rings and maintaining them is entirely improper in the present state of civ-

He declares that educational interests and manufacturing enterprises suffer from the use of so much money in this barbaric sport, and that habits of public order and economy are destroyed by it. Accordingly he orders the summary prohibition of bull fighting in his state.—New York Evening Sun.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Messrs. Strayes & Beunes, Monroe, N. C.;

Dear Sirs—About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, one box Cuticura Salve, and one cake of Cuticura Salve, and one cake of Cuticura Salve, and none cake of Cuticura Salve, and one cake of Cuticura Salve, and lample salve, and in teen years, who has been afflicted with ecrema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disapperared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

The Potter Drug and Chemical Co.:

Gentlemen—Mr. Wm. S. Stephenson, of this county, brought his son to town today to let us see him, and to show us what Cuticura Remedies had done for him. This is the case reterred to in our letter to you some time ago. To look at the boy now, one would suppose that there had never been anything the matter with him,—seems to be in perfect health. We have written and herewith inclose what his father has to say about the matter,—wrote it just as he dictated.

We are selling quite a quantity of Cuticura Remedies, and hear nothing but praises for them. We regard the Cuticura Remedies the best in the market, and shall do all we can to promote their sale.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing specze, specze, the acrid, watery discharge from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches, how familiar these symptoms are to thousand fuenza, and who live in ignorance of the fac fluenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough, gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.
